Examples Of Cases I Have Presented To The Board

Listed below are some of the cases I have presented to the Board. This list does not contain every client I have represented or every Board presentation I have made. This list is a representative list to give you an idea of the types of cases I handle. Each case is different. All facts are different. Each individual's history is different. You should not interpret these examples to mean that you will be granted or denied parole at your review. Each Parole Board representation is based on the unique circumstances of the client and his particular case. It is possible for two prisoners with identical offenses and/or sentences and similar criminal histories to have two different results.
